Exploring the Future at DA Z: Art, Tech, and Beyond

Digital Art Zurich (DA Z) recently took Switzerland by storm, offering a deep dive into the fusion of art and technology. Co-hosted by Lorez Legal, the festival showcased a practical NFT workshop and, guiding participants through the intricacies of minting NFTs and shedding light on their transformative impact on the art market together with Sanaa Voss and artist Myrtha Steiner.

Engaging discussions, led by community experts from the art and film industry, as well as academia, Lorez Legal, delved into the regulatory challenges surrounding these cutting-edge technologies, prompting reflections on applicable jurisdiction in data protection, tax law, and criminal law during the concluding Professional Days of the festival.

DA Z emerged as a beacon of innovation, providing a platform for digital art, practical learning and legal insights. Attendees gained a holistic understanding of the evolving digital landscape, leaving them equipped to navigate the complexities of Web3, AI and the metaverse.

The festival's focus on collaborative efforts and the exchange of knowledge highlighted its importance as a driving force for change in the Swiss digital cultural landscape. As we look to the future, DA Z has paved the way for a seamless integration of art and technology, leaving a lasting imprint on digital culture.

DAOs - Rethinking Decentralized Power

I spoke at a workshop at ETH Zürich on 21st November, joined by panelists from Polygon and Sielva Management. Together, we delved into the DAO concept, provided insights into existing DAOs, and engaged in discussions about the future challenges related to legal aspects, community and technology.

As the number of DeFi projects continues to rise, so does the prevalence of Decentralized Autonomous Organisations (DAOs). The emerging corporate model of DAOs offers advantages suited to the digitalization and decentralization era. However, given the absence of specific legal frameworks for DAOs in most countries worldwide, their understanding and classification often remain speculative.

Within the workshop attendees, there were students from the MSc Program on Blockchain & Digital Assets at the Frankfurt School of Finance & Management.

LOREZ LEGAL will be in Miami!

We are pleased to inform you that our team will be going to Miami to visit Art Basel Miami, attend the conferences Gateway presented by Now Media in collaboration with Christie's and Tezos x Art Basel. Contact us if you are in Miami from 5th December onwards.

Art Basel, an annual international art fair held in Basel, Switzerland; Miami Beach; Hong Kong; and, Paris, is a for-profit venture that operates as a private entity. In collaboration with local institutions in the host cities, Art Basel actively contributes to the growth and development of art programs.

Beyond serving as a platform for galleries to showcase and sell their artwork to potential buyers, Art Basel has garnered a substantial international audience, including art enthusiasts and students.
